1. DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATION

1.1 In the Agreement, the following expressions shall have the following meanings:

- (a) Affiliate means any company that, either directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the Company. As used in this definition, "control" (including with its correlative meaning, "controlled by", and "under common control with") shall mean the right to appoint majority of the directors or to control the management or policy decisions exercisable by a person or persons acting individually or in concert, directly or indirectly, including by virtue of their shareholding or management rights or shareholders agreements or voting rights or in any other manner
- (b) Confidential Information means without limitation, any or all information disclosed, either directly or indirectly, in written, representational, electronic, verbal or other form relating directly or indirectly to the present or potential business, operations or financial condition of or relating to the Company, its Affiliates or any of their respective Clients and Customers. Confidential Information shall specifically include any: (i) proprietary information, technical data, or know-how, inventions, innovations, information on research, product plans, products, services, suppliers, distributors, Customer lists and Customers, prices and costs, markets, software, developments, inventions, laboratory notebooks, processes, formulas, technology, designs, drawings, engineering, hardware configuration information, marketing, information and plans, licenses, finances, budgets or other business information disclosed to the Employee by the Company or created by the Employee during the period of their employment with the Company, whether or not during working hours (ii) all confidential and proprietary trade secrets, and/or all other information belonging or relating to the Company's or any Affiliate's business that is not publicly and widely known or not known by actual or potential competitors of the Company or any Affiliate; (iii) proprietary information relating to the development, utility, operation and functionality of the Company or any Affiliate, business plans, services, ideas, strategies, data related to any or all employees, Customers or Prospective Customers unpublished financial statements, and other financial details, computer programming techniques, methodologies and related technical information, forecasts, price quotes, bids, controls, operating procedures, organisation responsibilities, operating manuals, user manuals, documentation, source code and any and all information pertaining to the Company's business either now or in the future in any form whatsoever; (iv) any confidential or proprietary information received by the Company from third parties subject to a duty on the Company's part to maintain the confidentiality of such information and to use it only for certain limited purposes.

- (c) Customer / Clients means any person, firm, company, or other organization whatsoever to whom the Company or any Affiliate has supplied or received products or services at any time in the last 12 (twelve) months prior to the Termination Date, and with whom the Employee has had material contact during the Term.
- (d) Intellectual Property Rights means collectively or individually, worldwide rights relating to the following intangible property, whether or not filed, perfected, registered or recorded and whether now or hereafter existing, filed, issued or acquired: (i) patents, patent disclosures, patent rights, know-how, including any and all continuations, continuations-in-part, divisions, reissues, re-examinations, utility, model and design patents or any extensions thereof; (ii) rights associated with works of authorship, including without limitation, copyrights, copyright applications, copyright registrations; (iii) rights in trademarks, trademark registrations, and related applications, trade names, service marks, service names, logos, or trade dress; (iv) rights relating to the protection of trade secrets and confidential information; and (v) Internet domain names, Internet and World Wide Web URLs or addresses; (vi) mask work rights, mask work registrations and applications therefor; (vii) all other intellectual or proprietary rights anywhere in the world including rights of privacy and publicity, whether or not requiring registration and whether or not such registration has been obtained; and (viii) any such rights in and to all software developed for the Company.
- (e) Prospective Customer means any person, firm, company, or other organization whatsoever with whom the Company or any Affiliate has had successful negotiations or material discussions regarding the possible supply or receipt of services or products by the Company or any Affiliate, and with whom the Employee has had material contact during the Term.
- (f) Termination Date shall mean the Employee's last working day with the Company.

2. APPOINTMENT AND DESIGNATION

- 2.1. The Employee will be employed in the position of Software Engineer at the company offices, reporting to Delivery Manager or to such other person as the Company may designate from time to time.
- 2.2. The Employee may be transferred to any other unit / office of the Company, or to any Affiliate, whether located in India or abroad, in such capacity as the Company may from time to time determine and the Employee will be governed by the terms and conditions of service (employment) as applicable to the new assignment. Such transfer will not create any right to ask for a revision in salary or other terms and conditions of service.
- 2.3. The Employee's employment with the Company will commence on April 06, 2026 and will continue until terminated in accordance with this Agreement ("Term").
- 2.4. The Employee's employment will be subject to a probationary period of 3 months ("Probationary Period"). The Company may extend the Probationary Period at its sole discretion. Upon successful completion of the Probationary Period, the Employee's employment with the Company will be confirmed by way of a written communication. The Probationary Period will be deemed to be extended and continuing until the Employee has been notified otherwise via written communication.
- 2.5. Should the Employee's performance or conduct be below the standard that the Company considers to be acceptable or should the Company have any reservations about the Employee's continued employment during the Probationary Period, the Company reserves the right to terminate the Employee's employment in accordance with Clause 10.1 of this Agreement.

3. DUTIES OF THE EMPLOYEE AND OTHER COVENANTS

- 3.1. General. The Employee shall perform all such duties and responsibilities as are consistent with his/her designation in a competent and professional manner. It is clarified that the Employee's designation / title is merely descriptive, and the Employee shall also discharge such other duties and responsibilities as are delegated, assigned, and communicated to him/her from time to time, on behalf of the Company or any Affiliate by his/her supervisor or by the Company. Further, the Company reserves the right to re-designate the employees and allocate suitable responsibilities from time to time. The Employee may also be required to provide services to any Affiliate or Clients by way of assignment or secondment to the Affiliate or to the Client. The Employee agrees to undertake all such activities within his/her capacity, according to the needs and requirements of the Company.
- 3.2. Time Commitment. The Employee shall exclusively devote the whole of his/her working time, attention and skill to the duties of his/her office and shall faithfully, efficiently, competently and diligently perform such duties and exercise such powers as may be communicated to him/her from time to time. The Employee will not take any other work for remuneration (part-time or otherwise) or work on advisory capacity or be interested directly or indirectly in any other trade or business during the employment with the Company without explicit authorization from the Company.
- 3.3. Remote Working. From time to time, and depending upon the circumstances, the Employee may be required or may request to work remotely at the Company's sole discretion and upon the approval from the Company. While working remotely, the Employee shall ensure that: (i) all Company property is maintained and secured properly in accordance with the directions provided by the Company; (ii) proper precautions are taken to prevent theft or misuse of Company property or any unauthorized access to Confidential Information; and (iii) he/she complies with any applicable remote working policy of the Company.

- 3.4. Policies. The Employee shall observe and comply with the Company's rules, regulations and policies as may be amended from time to time at the Company's sole discretion, including without limitation, the Complaint Procedure for Accounting and Auditing Matters, GDI Code of Business conduct and Ethics, the privacy policy, anti-sexual harassment policy, Global Anti-corruption policy, Insider Trading Policy, Regulation FD External Communications, Corporate Governance Guidelines, security policies and equal opportunity policies formulated by the Company where relevant, and as amended and in force from time to time (collectively referred to as "Policies").
- 3.5. Consent to use personal data or information. The Employee hereby unequivocally consents to the Company collecting, using, or disclosing his/her personal information for any purpose directly or indirectly connected with the employment, including without limitation, for the purposes of background checks and medical examination. The Employee also consents to the Company transferring such personal information within the Company departments and any Affiliates, including to other states, territories or countries as permissible by law for internal administrative purposes. The Company represents that except for the purposes mentioned herein or unless required under law, the Company will not disclose to any third party or otherwise use in any manner, the Employee's personal information, without seeking prior consent in this regard.
- 3.6. Conflict of Interest. If any transaction with the Company involves a conflict between the Employee's personal interest and the interest of the Company in dealings with suppliers, Customers / Clients or other employees, the Employee would be required to inform the Company in writing about the nature of such conflict of interest immediately so that the Company is able to protect its interests.

4. COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

- 4.1. The Employee shall be eligible for the fixed annual compensation of INR 10,00,000 (Indian Rupees Ten Lakhs Only), the break-up of which is set out in Annexure A of this Agreement ("Compensation"). The Compensation shall be payable monthly in arrears after deduction of applicable statutory withholdings into a nominated bank account, in accordance with the Company's payroll practices. The Compensation includes the payment for the Intellectual Property Rights. Each Party shall bear and fully comply with their respective tax liabilities arising from the provisions of this Agreement.
- 4.2. Employee may also be entitled to medical insurance from time to time at the discretion of the Company.
- 4.3. Upon completion of 5 years of continuous service (as defined under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 ("PG Act")), the Employee will be entitled to gratuity in accordance with the PG Act and subject to the ceiling limit specified therein.
- 4.4. The Compensation & Benefits applicable to the Employee are personal and should be treated with utmost confidence. This is not to be discussed or divulged to anybody else other than for statutory purposes.

- 4.5. The Employee may be eligible to participate in benefit programmes that the Company establishes and makes available to its employees, subject to the provisions of Company Policies and subject to relevant eligibility criteria, which may include the Employee's position, tenure, salary, age, health and other qualifications. However, the Company reserves the right to amend or withdraw the benefit programmes at any time, subject to applicable laws.
- 4.6. The Company shall be entitled, at any time during the Employee's employment, and in any event on termination howsoever arising, to deduct from the Employee's remuneration, any monies due from the Employee to the Company including but not limited to any outstanding loans (including loans for training costs), advances, the cost of repairing any damage or loss to the Company's property caused by the Employee, and any other monies owed by the Employee to the Company, to the extent permitted by law.

5. WORKING HOURS AND LEAVE

- 5.1. The Employee shall comply with the work hours and work timings of the Company as may be communicated to the Employee by the Company or as may be prescribed under applicable Company Policies. If necessary, the Employee shall work such additional hours or days as may be necessary for the Employee to perform her/his duties effectively and otherwise in accordance with the Company's Policies pertaining to the same and the Employee shall not be entitled to receive any additional remuneration for work done outside his/her normal hours / days of work.
- 5.2. The Employee shall be entitled to such period of leave as is prescribed under the applicable Company policies. Leaves shall be taken by the Employee at such time and having regard to the requirements of the Company's business.

6. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

- 6.1. The Employee shall, during the Term, forthwith disclose to and hold in trust for the sole benefit of the Company or its designee, every discovery, invention, improvement, design, original works of authorship, developments, concepts, know-how and secret process made, conceived, reduced to practice, developed or discovered by him/her or caused to be conceived, reduced to practice or developed or discovered by him/her (whether alone or with any other person or persons) and all right (including Intellectual Property Rights), title and interest in the foregoing, whether or not patentable or registerable under copyright or similar laws anywhere in the world. The Parties agree that any and all such discoveries, inventions, improvements, designs, original works of authorship, developments, concepts, know-how and secret processes and all Intellectual Property Rights therein shall be assigned to the Company or its designee and shall belong to the Company / its designee. The Employee hereby agrees that he/she is not entitled to any additional compensation for the same and will not make any claims against the Company or any Affiliate with respect to the same. The Employee hereby waives all of his/her rights, including moral rights on any copyrighted work originated, conceived, written or made by him/her (either alone or with others) and he/she agrees not to claim that any treatment, exploitation or use of the said works infringes such moral rights (including but not limited to, the right to be indemnified, the right to object to derogatory treatment and right against false attribution).
- 6.2. The Employee agrees to assist the Company or its designee, at their expense, in every proper way to secure the Intellectual Property Rights of the Company or that of its designee in and to all discoveries, inventions, improvements, designs, original works of authorship, developments, concepts, know-hows and secret process undertaken by the Employee during the course of employment, in any and all countries, including with respect to the disclosure to the Company or its designee of all pertinent information and data with respect thereto, the execution of all applications, specifications, oaths, assignments, recordings, and all other instruments which the Company or its designee shall deem necessary in order to apply for, obtain, maintain and transfer such rights and in order to assign and convey to the Company or its designee, and any successors, assigns and nominees the sole and exclusive rights, title and interest as contemplated herein. The Employee further agrees that his/her obligation to execute or cause to be executed, any such instrument or papers shall continue even after the Termination Date.

- 6.3. If the Company or its designee is unable because of the Employee's mental or physical incapacity or unavailability or for any other reason to secure his/her signature to apply for or to pursue any application for any patents, copyright, mask works or other Intellectual Property Rights which are assigned to the Company or its designee as above, then the Employee hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Company and its duly authorized officers and agents as his/her agent and attorney in fact, to act for and in his/her behalf and stead to execute and file any such applications and to do all other lawfully permitted acts to further the application for, prosecution, issuance, maintenance or transfer of letters patent, copyright or other registrations thereon with the same legal force and effect as if originally executed by the Employee. The Employee hereby waives irrevocably any and all claims, of any nature whatsoever, against the Company and any Affiliate or their designees which he/she may now or hereafter have for infringement of any and all proprietary rights assigned to the Company or any Affiliate or such designee.
- 6.4. The Employee agrees to keep and maintain adequate and current written records of all inventions made by him/her, whether solely or jointly, during the Term. The records may be maintained in the form of notes, sketches, drawings, flow charts, electronic data or recordings, laboratory notebooks, and any other format. The records will be available to and remain the sole property of the Company at all times. The Employee agrees to not remove or delete any such records from the Company's place of business except as expressly permitted by the Policies. The Employee shall return all such records at the time of termination of his/her employment or at any point of time as may be requested by the Company.
- 6.5. The Employee shall also ensure that he/she does not disclose to the Company or use any invention, non-public proprietary information or material belonging or owned by any previous employer, Client or any other party. The Employee shall not induce the Company to use any inventions, confidential, non-public proprietary information, or material belonging to any previous employer, Client or any other party.

7. NON-COMPETITION AND NON-SOLICITATION

- 7.1. The Employee acknowledges that he/she will have knowledge of trade secrets, Intellectual Property Rights and/or other Confidential Information of the Company and its Affiliates and would have dealings with Customers / Clients, or Prospective Customers of the Company or any Affiliate. The Employee acknowledges the breadth of his/her covenants under this Clause and admits and acknowledges that he/she has various other technologies and skill sets which, if deployed after ceasing to be an Employee, could result in his/her competing against the Company or any Affiliate. Accordingly, the Employee undertakes the following to the Company:
 - (a) That, he/she shall not, for the duration of the Term, and for a period of 6 (six) months thereafter, either directly or indirectly through an agent, company, partnership or as a shareholder, joint venture partner, collaborator, consultant, advisor, principal contractor or sub-contractor, director, trustee, committee member, office bearer or agent or in any other manner whatsoever, whether for profit or otherwise:

- (i) be concerned in any business and/or activity that is identical to, or that directly or indirectly competes (or is likely to compete) with the business of the Company or of any Affiliate;
- (ii) solicit, induce, recruit or encourage any of the Company's or Affiliate's employees or consultants to terminate their relationship with the Company or any Affiliate, or attempt to solicit, induce, recruit, encourage or take away employees or consultants of the Company or any Affiliate.
- (iii) solicit, or assist in soliciting, or accept, or facilitate the acceptance of, or deal with, in competition with the Company, the custom and/or business of any Customer / Client or Prospective Customer (A) with whom he/she has had personal contact or dealings on behalf of the Company or any Affiliate during the 12 (twelve) months immediately preceding the Termination Date; or (B) for whom the Employee was, in a Customer / Client management capacity on behalf of the Company or any Affiliate, directly responsible during the 12 (twelve) months immediately preceding the Termination Date; or (C) about whom the Employee had or was aware of Confidential Information. During the period of restriction under this provision; the Employee also agrees not to interfere with the relationship which the Company or any Affiliate maintains with a Customer / Client or Prospective Customer falling within any of the categories listed in (A) to (C) above.

7.2. The Parties hereto recognise that the foregoing covenants in Clause 7.1 and the time and other limitations with respect thereto, are reasonable as to the period, territorial limitation and subject matter, properly required for the adequate protection of the value and goodwill of the Company and agree that such limitations are reasonable with respect to the business activities of the Company.

8. CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1. The Employee acknowledges that as a consequence of his/her employment, he/she has been and will be given access to Confidential Information of the Company or an Affiliate. The Employee agrees that during the Term and thereafter, he/she shall hold such Confidential Information in strictest confidence and shall not, directly or indirectly, use for himself/herself or use for / disclose to any person or entity or make any copies of, any Confidential Information other than for the benefit of Company and its Affiliates and in the course of performing his/her duties under this Agreement and/or as otherwise authorised by the Company.

8.2. The Parties agree that Confidential Information shall not include information that the Employee can demonstrate by sustainable evidence:

- (a) Is, or hereafter becomes, through no act or failure to act on the part of the Employee, publicly known or available.
- (b) Is known to the Employee at the time of receipt of such information. The Employee shall immediately on receipt of such information disclose to the Company that such information was already in his/her possession.

- (c) Is hereafter furnished to the Employee by a third party, as a matter of right and without restriction on disclosure, there being no obligations of confidentiality attached to the source of such information. The Employee shall immediately on receipt of such information inform the Company of the same.

8.3. Without prejudice to the generality of Clause 8.1:

- (a) The Employee shall not try to gain access to any Confidential Information, except as entrusted to him/her in furtherance of his/her duties. The Employee shall not attempt, to access any databases, including but not limited to Customer databases and other Confidential Information, which the Company has expressly prohibited the Employee from accessing. The Employee also understands that, for any reason, if he/she gains access to such Confidential Information, the Employee shall immediately inform the Company of the same and the reasons for gaining such access / intrusion. The Employee undertakes, under such circumstances, to maintain utmost confidentiality of such Confidential Information.
- (b) The Employee shall not reproduce in any form, the Confidential Information except with the prior written consent of the Company. Further, the Employee shall ensure that the Confidential information does not fall into the hands of third parties or is not put to unauthorised use.
- (c) The Employee's confidentiality obligations under the Agreement shall not prevent the Employee from disclosing the same if required by law or under the orders of any court of competent jurisdiction or other competent legal authority, provided that the Employee gives the Company notice of such intended disclosure and an opportunity to oppose the same.
- (d) The Employee confirms that all Confidential Information shall remain the sole and absolute property of the Company or Affiliate (where relevant), and the Employee hereby transfers to the Company or its assignee any and all right, title, or interest, including without limitation any Intellectual Property Rights, in and to any of the Confidential Information, or part thereof, created in whole or part by the Employee. The Employee agrees that he/she shall not ever directly or indirectly copy, duplicate, disseminate, publish, transfer, disclose, or divulge any of the Confidential Information to any firm, individual, entity, institution or other third party, unless otherwise so specifically authorized in writing, in advance, by the Company.
- (e) The Employee shall, at the time of leaving the services of the Company, return all materials / documents of confidential nature and other Company property, which he/she is in possession of. The Employee undertakes to indemnify and keep indemnified the Company against any and all claims, damages, losses, which the Company may suffer, on account of unauthorised use of Company property and the Confidential Information by the Employee.
- (f) The provisions of this Section shall apply, notwithstanding that the Employee has inadvertently, or without authorization, obtained access to or otherwise come into possession of Confidential Information.
- (g) The Employee represents that his/her performance of this Agreement as an employee of the Company has not breached and will not breach any agreement to keep in confidence proprietary information, knowledge or data acquired prior to the commencement of his/her employment relationship with the Company.
- (h) In order to secure or preserve Confidential Information, the Company shall have the right at all times to deactivate, disable, remove or prevent access to any Company property, including computers, servers, computer networks, email accounts, databases, storage, and vehicles.

- (i) The Employee agrees that he/she will not, during his/her employment with the Company, improperly use or disclose any proprietary information or trade secrets of any former or concurrent employer or other person or entity and that he/she will not bring onto the premises of the Company any unpublished document or proprietary information belonging to any such employer, person or entity unless consented to in writing by such employer, person or entity.
- (j) The Employee further recognizes that the Company has received and, in the future, will receive from third parties their confidential or proprietary information subject to a duty on the Company's part to maintain the confidentiality of such information and to use it only for certain limited purposes. The Employee agrees to hold all such confidential or proprietary information in the strictest confidence and not to disclose it to any person, firm or corporation or to use it except as necessary in carrying out my work for the Company consistent with the Company's agreement with such third party.

9. INDEMNITY

- 9.1. The Employee shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless the Company or any Affiliate against and in respect of any and all actions, suits, proceedings, claims, demands, judgments, costs, expense (including reasonable attorney's fees) and damages resulting from, relating or incidental to, or arising out of any misrepresentation or breach by the Employee of any provision in this Agreement.

10. TERM AND TERMINATION

- 10.1. Termination during the initial Probationary Period: During the Probationary Period, the Company or the Employee may terminate the Agreement by giving the other Party one (1) month's written notice, without cause or salary in lieu of the notice. The Company reserves the right to adjust any amount due from the Employee from the full and final amount payable.
- 10.2. Termination after Probationary Period: After the Probationary Period, the Employee may terminate the Agreement by giving the Company 2 (two months) prior notice in writing. The Company may terminate the Agreement without cause by providing the Employee 2 (two) months prior notice in writing, or salary in lieu of such notice period, after the Probationary Period. The notice period required to be provided by the Employee or by the Company may be modified by the Company at its sole discretion. Such modification shall be communicated to the Employee by the Company in advance. The Company may at its sole discretion waive all or part of the notice or allow the Employee to pay in lieu of the notice. It is clarified for the avoidance of doubt that the Employee shall not, as a matter of right seek an earlier exit by making payments in lieu of notice period. The Company shall, on a case-by-case basis, and based on a written request from the Employee, approve an early exit subject to the Employee making requisite payments to compensate for any shortfall in notice period. Further, any resignation would have to be accepted by the Company to become effective. In certain circumstances, such as where an internal inquiry is pending or where the Employee is on deputation or secondment, the Company will not be bound to accept the Employee's resignation.
- 10.3. The Company may, at its option, and at any time during the Term (including during the Probationary Period) terminate the Employee's employment for "Cause" without providing any notice as envisaged under Clauses 10.1 and 10.2, where "Cause" shall be deemed to exist upon the occurrence of 1 (one) or more of the following events, as determined by the Company:

- (a) the Employee is incapacitated by reason of ill-health or accident, from performing his/her duties and has been so incapacitated for a consecutive period of not less than 15 (fifteen) calendar days; or
- (b) the Employee has committed a breach (whether by one or several acts or omissions) of any of his/her obligations under this Agreement or any Policies, or is guilty of any gross misconduct; or
- (c) the Employee has committed an act of fraud, misappropriation, embezzlement, theft, dishonesty, breach of fiduciary duty involving personal benefit or act or omission otherwise inimical to the interests of the Company; or
- (d) criminal proceedings have been initiated against the Employee, whether involving the Company or otherwise, or the Employee is found guilty of an illegal act; or
- (e) the Employee is indicted, convicted, or involved in any crime or criminal proceeding, including but not limited to acts of moral turpitude, whether or not in relation to the employment of the Employee; or
- (f) the Employee has been persistently unpunctual or, negligent in carrying out, or has failed or refused in any material respect to serve and carry out his/her duties and responsibilities as required by the Agreement and as reasonably assigned to him/her by the Company even after a written request from the Company; or
- (g) the Employee has been absent from work without authorization from the Company for a period greater than 3 (three) working days; or
- (h) The Employee has caused any unauthorised disclosure of any Confidential Information or violated any applicable law; or
- (i) the Employee has committed an act that led to security breach;
- (j) For any other event set out in any relevant law(s) or the policies, including but not limited to any misconduct, where "Cause" shall be deemed to exist.

The above list is indicative and not exhaustive and the Company may terminate the employment of the Employee with cause for instances other than those stipulated above.

- 10.4. Termination for poor performance, loss of faith, redundancy, etc. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Agreement, the Company may terminate the employment contemplated under this Agreement at any time, by giving the Employee [1 (one) month] notice or payment of salary for such period, in the event of non-performance or underperformance of the Employee's duties / obligations in the opinion of the Company, for failure to achieve targets, failure to achieve established goals and objectives, if the Company has lost faith / confidence / trust in the Employee, redundancy, reorganization, closure of any office or of the Company's business, financial difficulties, etc.

10.5. Consequences Of Termination

- (a) Termination of employment shall not release the Employee from his/her obligations and liabilities which have accrued prior to the Termination Date and those surviving termination. The Company reserves its right to adjust any and all amounts due from the Employee from the full and final amount payable. The Employee shall extend his/her complete cooperation in relation to executing any and all documentation as may be required by the Company regarding his/her termination from services. The Employee must comply with all lawful instructions of the Company (including any instruction not to contact Customers / Clients, prospective Customers, employees, or business contacts of the Company or any Affiliate).
- (b) Prior to the Employee's final day of employment (or at any other time, if requested by the Company), the Employee shall return all Company property (tangible or intangible) and shall not keep in his/her possession, recreate or deliver to anyone else, including any and all Confidential Information, devices, records, data, notes, reports, proposals, lists, correspondence, specifications, drawings, blueprints, sketches, laboratory notebooks, materials, flow charts, equipment, other documents or property, or reproductions of any of the aforementioned items developed pursuant to the employment or otherwise belonging to the Company, its successors or assigns including copies of items, in good, intact condition. The Employee must not destroy, erase, tamper with or damage any Company Property (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any electronic materials) prior to their return, unless otherwise directed by the Company in writing. This would however not apply to those assets or items, which were obligatory for the Employee to buy under any applicable schemes.
- (c) During the notice period, the Employee must use his/her best endeavours to assist the Company to achieve a smooth and orderly handover and transition of workload and responsibilities. The Employee must participate fully in handing over work and responsibilities (including without limitation in respect of Customers / Clients and suppliers) to other employees as may be required by the Company or its Affiliates; or to comply with any other requirements by the Company including ceasing contact with Customers / Clients, suppliers, agents, professional advisers, brokers and employees of any Affiliate or taking leave pursuant to the Policies.
- (d) Following termination of the Employee's employment with the Company, the Employee must not represent himself/herself as being in any way connected with the business of the Company or any Affiliate (except to the extent agreed by the Company in writing).
- (e) If required by the Company, the Employee may also confirm in writing that he/she has complied with all his/her obligations under this Clause.
- (f) The Employee agrees and accepts that any statutory or other "last in first out" rule or any modifications thereof shall not apply in the event of the termination of this Agreement for any reason whatsoever.
- (g) Prior to his/her last day of employment with the Company, the Employee shall execute a separation agreement and/or any other documentation in accordance with the Company's instructions. The execution of the agreement shall take place irrespective of the reason for the severance.

- (h) Post separation from the Company, the Employee undertakes that he/she shall continue to extend his/her assistance and full cooperation, in relation to any and all pending litigations and/or administrative / governmental / internal proceedings which may originate during his/her period of employment with the Company or which may arise in the future, that require his/her involvement. This requirement shall apply and continue to apply irrespective of the capacity (as a witness, party, etc.) in which the Employee is involved in such litigation or administrative / governmental / internal proceeding.

11. GARDEN LEAVE

- 11.1. The Company, in its sole discretion, may place the Employee on garden leave during any period of notice under Clause 10 ("Garden Leave Period"), whether given by the Employee or the Company. During the Garden Leave Period, the Company may require the Employee to not attend the office and/or not do any work for the Company, unless intimated otherwise as and when the need arises. During such Garden Leave Period:
 - (a) unless specifically requested by the Company, the Employee will not undertake any work for a third party whether paid or unpaid and whether as an employee or otherwise for the Company;
 - (b) unless specifically requested by the Company, the Employee will not enter or attend the premises of the Company;
 - (c) unless specifically requested by the Company, the Employee will not contact or communicate with any Client, employee, Customer, agent, representative, Prospective Customer or supplier of the Company;
 - (d) unless required for completion of duties as may be specifically requested by the Company, the Employee will not contact or communicate with any employee, officer, director, agent or consultant of the Company;
 - (e) any signing authority and power of attorney issued (if any) in the Employee's name may be revoked;
